COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK. September 15.—Following an early decline to-day's cotton market wendled up on covering by early sellers and surport from New Orieans, with the close yery steady at a net advance of 102 points. Eales were estimated at 125,000 bales. The naivet opened steady at a decline of 305 points and before the end of the first hour relia off to a net loss of 802 points owing to more favorable weather advices and insifferent cables. It was reported that the West Indian storm was spending its force out at sea. Neither the Western nor the Eastern belt forecast suggested any immediate climate disturbances; receipts were full and bears who had covered toward the close of hist week on storm uncertainties ascemed to be settling during the carly session, while there was also a moderate supply of Southern selling orders in the hands of the commission house. But around 8.78 for October the decline was checked by covering, and the market firmed up during the afternoon on the demand from this source which became more active during the last hair heart, when New Orieans was firmer and sent buying orders to the local pit. Possibly disappointment that the market hair not declined more readily with the West Indian storm out of the way had something to do with the covering movement, which may also have been encouarged by roports that a higher basis in the Southwest, was driving spot buyers into the Eastern belt, and that the interior markets were separally steady. Southern spot markets officially reported were $5.0 lower to 1-11c. higher. Experters were buyers here during the last trading. WHEAT-

CITICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, ILL. September 15.— The market for wheat maintained its strong position to-day, despite continued heavy arrivals at Minneapolis and Duluth, although prices were for a time somewhat depressed. Incidentally September croated a new high record for the new crop by selling at $1.00½. Heaviness was still apparent in corn and outs, while provisions receded under scattered liquidation. Prices changes in none of the cereals was considerable.

Cotton goods are generally quiet. The jobbers conducted two large sales during the day in dress goods and printed fleeced goods, and moved out all the merchandles offered. Mecklenburg Soldiers Make Good Showing in Foil Dress.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHASE CITY, VA., September 15.—
The annual inspection of the Mecklenburg Guards by State Inspector-General
Jo Lane Stern was made last night.
The large building, well arranged for the purpose, was illuminated, and the Chase City concert band enlivened the occasion with delightful music. There was a large number of spectators on hand, with the ladles predominating.
The company had sixty men and officers, with Surgeon Adam T. Finch and Quartermaster J. Ellis Brame, of the Second Virginia Regiment, to which this command is attached, being also present. Captain Thomas W. Greer and all of his company, in new dress uniforms, made a splendid appearance and exhibited great improvement since their experience in the Chickamauga encampment last month. In this view Ine Southside Female Institute opened its session yesterday, with an enrolment of 200 pupils.
Professor Duke has five additional teachers, and states that in a short time his school will have 300 boys and girls in attendance.

new high school building will be let
on the 26th of this month, the building to cost about $12,000. A location has

Republican Campaign to Be Opened Pittsylvania by Parsons. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Republican campaign will be formally opened in Pittsylvania county on next Monday, when the voters will be addressed by Hon. John M. Parsons, Republican nominee for Congress from this district. Mr. Parsons spent several days last week in the county in conference with leaders of his party, and it was then the decision was made to open next Monday.

The Chatham High School and three other high schools in Pittsylvania opened for the ensuing session Monday morning with very good enrolments, which will be considerably increased when the sons of farmers, now busy saving their crop, begin. Thirty-four was the number enrolled in the primary grade at the Chatham High School Monday.

The farmers are now very busy cutting and curing tobacco. From every part of the county comes the wall of "curing badly," especially in color, which in many instances is a streaked green. The crop as a whole is very rough and will make a good average in pounds in proportion to the size of the plant, which in many cases had to be topped very low, owing to the dry weather about that time. Damage by worms has been less this year than in many years past. The crop of corn will fall short about 25 per cent, of that last year.
